

SANITY IN THE CLASSROOM WITH ANDY VASS

Positive relationships and emotionally intelligent leadership are essential for high quality learning to occur. This two workshop programme will explore influential language patterns; responding effectively to everyday issues that interfere with learning; and how to maintain teacher resilience and energy.

Andy Vass has spent the past 45 years as a teacher, trainer and coach. Also, as a parent of three teachers (and the husband of one) he is fully immersed in education and how schools function.

He has worked across the UK and internationally with organisations and individuals to support successful improvement. He does this through developing positive behaviours, emotionally intelligent relationships and solution focused coaching cultures. His courses, online tutorials, mentoring programmes and other resources deliver answers and practical solutions. Because the skills and approaches that he teaches are practical and easy to grasp you can put them into immediate, positive effect in your own work.
